Adding value and clarity to your procurement activity

Is procurement at the very heart of your business?

Do you want to drive revenue back into your business without having to increase your turnover?

With many businesses spending 60-70% of their turnover on external suppliers and contractors, how you manage and control your procurement activity can make a significant impact to your bottom line, not to mention your operational performance and risk management.

Perhaps your current procurement function needs a review? Maybe procurement as a function does not exist? Have you ever thought about addressing this but you don't have the time or budget?

If this sounds familiar, we are here to help.

Taking such a big step and transforming your procurement function may seem quite daunting. Why not let Clarity Procurement take the strain and allow you to focus on other aspects of your business? Using our proven approach, we quickly and quietly go about transforming your procurement approach and implement simple but very effective measures to deliver a fit for purpose procurement function that adds value, allowing you to concentrate on your core business.

One thing is for sure; we don't just consult and advise, we also deliver!

“Clarity Procurement immediately impressed me with their depth of knowledge and experience and the way they went about their business - professional but with a sensitivity for our needs. Despite the many challenges along the way, Clarity Procurement worked hard to deliver the project on time and as agreed. The result is a robust and modern approach to procurement that will stand us in good stead for the foreseeable future”
